

J. C. McMillan became President of the State Normal and Industrial College in 1936 and immediately launched a program of extending the college's services to all residents of the southeastern part of North Dakota. After 18 years he can look with pride on his work, knowing that he has done the best job in the state of making his school serve the purpose for which it was founded. In appreciation of his years of untiring efforts for the college and his loyalty to his faculty and his students, we gratefully dedicate this book to our President.

En Aye Leadership Awards

Each year the college newspaper sponsors an award contest to honor the four outstanding upperclassmen on the campus. From a list of nominees selected by the juniors and seniors themselves, a student-faculty committee makes the final choice, based on leadership qualities as displayed in activities both on and off the campus, personality, character, and service to the school.

En Aye Leadership Awards for 1952 went to Floyd E. Mattheis, Ellendale; Edna Stahlecker Irion, Ellendale; Charles S. Anderson, Ellendale; and Virginia M. Schultz, Montevideo, Minn.

En Aye Leadership Awards for 1953 went to Nadine A. Fox, Forbes; Herbert K. Bertsch, Ashley; Fred W. Retzlaff, Ellendale; and Victor R. Steinwand, Ellendale.

Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities

Each fall the college is authorized a certain number of nominees eligible for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, the number depending on the previous year's enrollment. At the N-I the Faculty Council nominates, from the list of juniors and seniors, twice as many candidates as the college is authorized; the Student Council then makes the final selection from that faculty list.

Five seniors were nominated in 1952 and accepted by Who's Who headquarters in Tuscaloosa, Ala. They were Victor R. Steinwand, Ellendale; Fred W. Retzlaff, Ellendale; Herbert K. Bertsch, Ashley; Nadine A. Fox, Forbes; and Marilyn J. Meyer, Edgeley. In the fall of 1953 the N-I was authorized but one member, and the Faculty and Student Councils agreed unanimously to select Howard Freeberg, Lisbon.

Senior Day

Alden Flakoll of Forbes and Elaine Bentson of Cogswell (above) ruled as King and Queen of Senior Day in 1952.

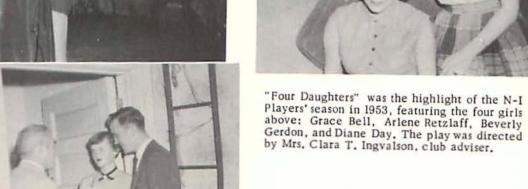

Duane Gernar and Carolina Rudolph of Fullerton (below) reigned over the 1953 Senior Day.

One hundred fifty high school seniors from 12 schools visited the college at the N-I's second annual Senior Day in 1952, and 160 guests from 11 schools attended the 1953 event. The program both years included assembly entertainments, tours of the campus, banquets, and dances. Student chairmen of the event were Herbert Bertsch in 1952 and Wilfred Richter in 1953.

The summer school formal, climaxing social activities of the 1953 summer session, brought out the decorative genius of students in Mrs. Randolph's art classes, headed by Boyd Blumer (upper left).

1954 Snitcher (SM) Yearbook Digitally Prepared by the Coleman Museum, 2017 Featuring the parade Saturday were high school bands from Ellendale, Gwinner, and Bristol, S. D. Besides numerous horsemen, buggies, and the American Legion color guard, 20 floats took part. Bristol won the trophy for the best marching band.

Winning float was the Legion Auxiliary entry featuring Boys' and Girls' State delegates. Second prize went to the Industrial Arts club's flying saucer. Cliff Kyes' orchestra played for the Victory Dance Saturday night, after the Dusties had defeated the Wahpeton Wildcats on the gridiron that afternoon.

1953 Roundup

Forty floats, six visiting high school bands, the American Legion color guard, and 20 horsemen helped make the 1953 parade the longest and most spectacular in the history of the college. Winning first prize for the second successive year as the best marching band was the Bristol high school entry, directed by N-I Alumnus Neil Smith. Winning prizes for floats were the FTA, Legion Auxiliary, and Lettermen's Club (below).

ATHLETICS

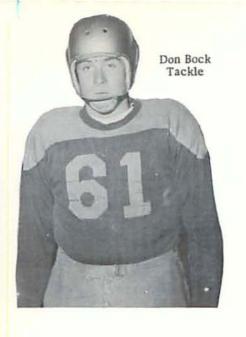

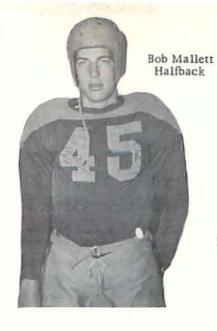

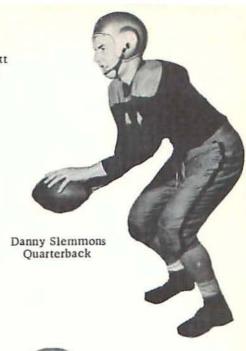

A missed point after touchdown cost the Dusties a share of the conference football title in 1952. The N-I defeated Bottineau, Bismarck, Wahpeton, and Dickinson, losing only to Jamestown. A 20-20 tie at Mayville put them just out of reach of the 5-1 records posted by two other loop teams. In 1953, with but three veterans in the lineup, Coach Trei put together a freshman team that thumped Bottineau in the opener but dropped their remaining games. Archie Stuart landed on the all-conference team at tackle, and the rest of the men showed enough promise to cause the coach to look forward to future years with optimism.

Track

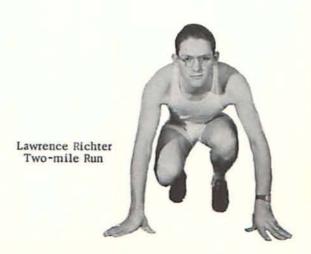

A few first-place winners gave the Dusties quality, but lack of depth cost them quantity in the track seasons of 1952 and 1953. Danny Slemmons won the pole vault in every meet he entered in two years, Fred Retzlaff was topped in the discus only once in the two-year period, Murray Brown was a consistent winner in both hurdles, and Lawrence Richter won every two-mile race in 1952. After placing second in the Dakota Pentangular in 1952, the Dusties won third place in the conference meet as Slemmons, Retzlaff, Brown, and Richter each won an event and picked up points in other events, along with Ted Dockter. In 1953 Slemmons and Retzlaff repeated as conference champions in their specialties and Richter placed fourth in the two-mile run.
